

GRACE FIRE DELIVERANCE HEALING GLOBAL WORLD MINISTRY

Pastor Ifeanyi Ude • Isheri Osun, Lagos

Breaking Every Chain

"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound."

Isaiah 61:1

1. Chains Are Not Always Visible

Some chains rattle loudly — addiction, generational patterns, open sin. But many chains are silent: bitterness that has calcified into identity, fear that has been mistaken for caution, shame that has been carried so long it now feels like personality. Deliverance begins with honesty — naming what has actually bound you, rather than managing its symptoms.

Jesus did not come only for the visibly broken. He came for every form of bondage, seen and unseen, because His anointing was specifically sent "to proclaim liberty to the captives." No chain is outside the reach of that anointing.

2. The Anointing Breaks the Yoke

Isaiah later declares that it is the anointing that destroys the yoke — not willpower, not self-help, not time. This is why deliverance ministry is not a performance; it is a genuine confrontation between the presence of God and the powers that have held a life captive. When the anointing comes near, chains that have resisted years of human effort begin to loosen.

This means your breakthrough is not about trying harder. It is about positioning yourself under the anointing — through worship, the Word, prayer, and yes, deliverance ministration — and allowing what only God can do to be done.

3. Walking Free, Not Just Feeling Free

Freedom is not only a feeling in a service; it is a way of life afterward. Many who are delivered in a moment return to bondage because they never rebuilt their daily habits around their freedom. Guard what you have received: change the company you keep, change what you rehearse in your mind, and stay planted in a house that will keep pouring fresh oil on you.

A chain that is broken once can be re-forged by neglect. Do not merely celebrate your deliverance — steward it.

Closing Prayer

> Lord Jesus, I thank You for the anointing that destroys every yoke. I bring before You every chain, seen and unseen, that has held my life captive. Break it now, in Your name. Teach me to walk in the freedom You have purchased, and to guard it every single day. In Jesus' mighty name, Amen.
